ARCHITECTURAL GLASS

Industrial Aesthetics

Various types of industrially manufactured glass hold an important place in modern architecture. Along with excellent aesthetic and functional characteristics, one of the major advantages is the affordable price. We offer several types of industrial glass with different textures, known as ornamental glass. Ornamental glass, due to its surface, diffuses light and is decorative, making it perfect for partitions and interior design elements. In exterior applications, ornamental glass aesthetically enhances buildings and provides privacy in various architectural contexts.
